

SportsWRITER

SportsWRITER is an advance interactive graphics presentation system which provides presenters and producers with the capability to focus the viewer's attention on the important detail in any on screen analysis. With the ability to be used in a variety of programme types; from breaking news stories to sports coverage, the SportsWRITER comes with an extensive range of graphics options and is easy to use. With the automatic playback function, presenters can touch anywhere on the screen to seamlessly advance a story or illustrate a point. Statistics come alive and even portions of an image can be moved in order for commentators and experts to analyse a scene and explain what is happening to the viewer.

Key features of the SportsWRITER include:

- Freehand draw, circles, lines, arrows and shadow effects
- All functions completely configurable with an extensive colour palette available
- Import and adapt graphic images, animations and Quicktime movies for use in presentations
- Live video or image background and video launch capability
- Record and automatic playback function for an on screen analysis
- Fully configurable control button layout
- Microsoft Windows based operating system
- Available in SD or HD formats

Available for hire or purchase. Further information is available on request.
